KENYON

Loses to Ohio State---Wooster Beaten in Close Game.

On Thanksgiving Day we once more lowered down to our ancient rivals O. S. U.

The team played the best ball it was capable of and were in no sense outclassed. We give the Columbus Dispatch write-up as being a good authentic account of the struggle:—

Kenyon football men, after working as grittily as they are wont to year after year, saw their cause again a losing one Thanksgiving afternoon when Ohio State defeated them 22 to 0. Of late years it has been the custom of the Gambier men to either score or come near doing so. Yesterday was an exception, and never during the 60 minutes of play did an opportunity present itself even to get a goal from field until the very last half minute of playing. Hines and Jones fumbling exchanges of kicks putting the ball on Ohio's 22-yard line. Lord the regular place kicker of the Gambier team, was already on the side lines because of an injury. It fell to Bentley to make the try at goal. His kick was a bad one, and another play was not attempted, time being called right there.

Ohio found no trouble gaining on the Pierce machine and in the first half should have had four touchdowns instead of two. The third one was made on a forward pass which was declared illegal, the ball going over the line on the fly instead of being handled by Powell just inside fair ground. Again the oval was worked to the Kenyon one-yard line when time was called for the first half. State had gained it on the six-yard line on a fumble of a punt. One play put it to the one-yard bar when time saved the score.

In the second period Captain Jones brought glory to himself by twice kicking the ball over the bar from placement after the team had been repulsed by the Kenyon defense. The first one was an easy shot from the 15-yard line. The second, coming later in the half, was a dead swell goal from the 35-yard line and at a very difficult angle. Jones drove the ball hard and true. A touchdown in this final half brought the score up to the 22 to 0 total.

Two Kenyon men wound up their football careers in a blaze of glory. Center Bland suffered a broken nose in the first three minutes of play but he stayed the contest through against three Ohio State centers put in the game to win their "O." The other was the defensive star, Robert Bentley. This little halfback, who has been disgraced by ejection in the two past seasons' play at Ohio field was on his behavior and played football. His defense was clean and hard and flying tackles again and again saved his team from being scored on more heavily. His work in repulsing the Scarlet and Gray attack will long be remembered after his rough play of other years has been forgotten.

TAFT

Recently Expressed His Opinion On What a College Pres- ident Ought to Be.

It may be of interest to know that President Taft has recently expressed his opinion of the kind of man the head of an educational institution ought to be. He says that decidedly the business abilities of a college president should be a secondary consideration. His scholarship and aptness to teach are the fundamental necessities. He must first be a teacher with enough executive ability to select the right men for his institution and to retain an efficient body of instructors. Material advantages without the soul to inspire are not going to advance an institution of learning. Let other men look after the finances.

Ohio State had the class. It was demonstrated before the game was eight minutes old. After several exchanges of punts, during which Henry made one good gain of 19 yards and Lord bucked the line for a first down, Young tried a forward pass well in his own territory. Summers intercepted the throw and was downed on the Kenyon 28-yard bar. Ohio State here crushed through in five or six plays until Wells went over for a touchdown.

The second touchdown came as the result of a march by Ohio from her own 40-yard line. Jones made 15. Five more plays netted 25 yards. Powell on the next play put Hayward out of the defense and Wells skipping by, eluded Henry for a 37-yard run for a touchdown. How State twice after then in the same half came near getting two touchdowns has been told. The touchdown in the second half resulted when a march which was inaugurated from Ohio's 50-yard line. A forward pass, Jones to Beatty, netted 34 yards. Smashing tactics then put over Cox for a touchdown.

The Prospects for Ohio Teams are Excellent---Mythical All-Ohio.

Next year's prospects have been so thoroughly discussed in Ohio papers that the item by this time is indeed a threadbare one.

One thing seems peculiar in the 1910 football prospect and that is that the larger schools with exception of Ohio State will suffer the most by graduation. Reserve, Case and Oberlin will each lose from seven to ten men. Oberlin and Case being the hardest hit of any.

State should have a good team although the loss of Captain Jones will prove a hard blow.

O. W. U. is fortunate in having but two men graduate and should make a good showing.

At Reserve the undergraduates are bemoaning the loss of Portman, Wertz, Schiller, Barney, Corlette and Hole. Seaman will have a different task ahead when the 1910 season rolls around.

Otterbein and Wittenburg will prove factors in the championship race next year. By next year the work of Exendine and Detray should begin to be apparent. What Miami will be able to do in the conference is as yet an open question. As a whole the 1910 season should be an even thing. The strong teams will be weaker and the weak teams stronger. It is to be hoped however that the championship will be decisively decided and not be left in doubt as in the past several seasons.

MYTHICAL ALL-OHIO

The usual variety of All-Ohio teams came out on the Sunday following Thanksgiving and as usual Kenyon did not receive the attention due her. Here at Kenyon we have no city papers to take note of every good play and for that reason our men are seldom given the credit they deserve. The Columbus Dispatch naturally favors State and according to their columns there is never but one team on the field and that is always O. S. U. The Cleveland papers divide their honors between Case and Reserve, occasionally dropping Oberlin a few crumbs. Coach Pierce saw all the Big Six teams except Oberlin this year and he chose the following as his All-Ohio team.

OLD

Kenyon in the Years Gone By--- From the Kenyon Col- legian, 1857.

The following is taken from the Kenyon Collegian, October, 1857.

Ascension Hall-Laying the Corner- Stone.

The greater number of those interested in the affairs of Kenyon are aware that her increasing prosperity has already made it absolutely necessary to provide additional accommodations for students, and more commodious apartments for recitation rooms, libraries, society halls, chapel, &c.

During the past year vigorous efforts have been made to obtain the means requisite for the erection of suitable buildings, with such success as to justify a commencement of the work early in the past summer. One building is now in the process of erection, and will supply a part of the wants above enumerated. The new edifice to be called Ascension Hall, in commemoration of the Church of the Ascension, New York; a large proportion of the funds having been contributed through the influence of its rector, Rev. Dr. Bedell, and the liberality of a number of its Laymen. Its style of architecture is to be of the Elizabethan, resembling Bexley Hall in its exterior plan and general appearance. It is to be built entirely of sandstone, laid in regular courses, and presenting an entire surface without marks of hammer or chisel excepting the doorways, windows angles and buttresses. It will consist of a central building and two wings, rising three stories in height above the basement with a square tower surmounted by turretted battlements over the main entrance. The whole building will be 171 feet in length, and the central portion 33 feet in width, the wings extending sufficiently to admit a window in the transverse wall between the exterior angles and the main building. The basement, besides furnace rooms, will furnish spacious apartments, not yet appropriated to any special purpose. Each of the three stories will contain twelve rooms for students, 12 by 18 feet, and two recitation rooms, 20 by 30 feet in size, the latter entered from a hall passing under the tower through the centre building, and the former from two others in the wings, running at right angles to the main entrance. Should it be considered desirable, it is contemplated to appropriate the two rooms on either side of the hall in the third story of the main building to the two Literary Societies, and to furnish and decorate them in a suitable style.

The corner-stone of this much needed building was laid on Tuesday, June 30th, the day preceeding last Commencement. A procession composed of the officers of the two institutions, Clergymen, Alumni and Undergraduates, formed in front of the College building about 6 o'clock p. m., and marched to the spot selected, where a large number of spectators were already congregated. The ceremonies were commenced with prayer, read by the Bishop of the Diocese, and the responsive reading of the 145th Psalm, after which the assembly united in singing a beautiful and appropriate hymn, written for the occasion by a graduate of the College and Theological Seminary. A sealed glass jar containing a number of documents and photographs was then placed in the cavity prepared for it, and the President of the College read a list of its contents, which was as follows:

Journal of General Convention for 1856; Journal of the Diocesan Convention for 1856; Last Annual Catalogue for 1856-57; Kenyon Collegian for June, 1857; Mt. Vernon Democratic Banner, June 30; Mt. Vernon Republican, June 30; Western Episcopalian, June 26, 1857, containing Bishop McIlvaine's last Annual Address; Christ our Helper, a sermon by Rev. N. H. Schenck; Charge by Bishop McIlvaine on Justification by Faith; Photographs of Bishop McIlvaine, Rev. Dr. Bedell, Lorin Andrews.

The stone was then placed over it, and the Bishop striking it three times with a hammer, pronounced the corner-stone laid in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, that upon it might be erected a durable structure for the promotion of Religion and sound Learning. Then, standing upon the wall, he delivered a most beautiful and appropriate address. He spoke of the happiness which all present must feel in witnessing the laying of the corner-stone of another building to be erected in this beautiful grove for such a purpose. He made a beautiful and touching allusion to Bishop Chase, and then briefly adverted the great objects of these institutions, namely, the cultivation of Piety and sound Learning. He then spoke of the essential element of education, which is the proper discipline of the mind—not the mere accumulation of knowledge; an indispensable means to which, and of equal importance is the Greek and Roman classics, and of Science, Natural, Abstract and Metaphysical. But education is not for time only, but for eternity. Education in the highest sense, then, is the cultivation of true Religion, without which there can be no true education. At the close of the Bishop's address, the Gloria in Excelsis was sung by the whole assembly, and the ceremony closed by the Bishop with the Benediction.

Howard B. Wright, '02, returned to witness the Wooster game.

The Ohio State Journal put Bland at center and Bentley at end on the first team and gave Seigehrist a place at guard and Axtell a place at end on the second team.

The Columbus Dispatch didn't give Kenyon any place on the first team but put Axtell at end on the second eleven.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer chose Axtell as one end on the All-Ohio eleven but gave us no more places either on the first or second team.

The Cleveland Leader placed Axtell at end on the second team.

FOOD FOR THE ANVIL CHORUS.

Although good jokes are now seldom found, Kenyon is no more sterile a spot for their birthplace than any other. Two jokes in particular have been told of Kenyon students which are worthy of mention. A learned Doctor whom we all know, was just calling the role of his class room the other day when the door suddenly burst open and a belated student was precipitated into the room with such force that he struck and fell over the back row of chairs. Nothing daunted, he arose and book in hand, climbed over the rows of chairs to the front of the room. The doctor turned his shoulder petulantly toward the boy and said in a highly insulted tone, "Well, I scarcely consider that a gentlemanly way to enter my classroom". To this the student, with cap to heart in a deep courtesy, replied, "Oh! pardon me, doctor! I did not know I was in the presence of ladies."

It was the dreamy hour after the Thanksgiving dinner and the girls were talking in the hushed tones appropriate to the occasion.

"I've just heard of a new charm to tell whether anyone loves you, and, if so, who it is," whispered Elsie.

What is it?" queried Sophie absently fingering her new diamond ring.

"Well, you take four or five chestnuts, name each of them after some man you know, and then put them on the stove, and the first ones that pops is the one that loves you."

"H'm," said Sophie, "I know a better way than that."

"Do you?"

"Yes, indeed. By my plan you take one particular man, place him on the sofa in the parlor, sit close to him with the light a little low, and look into his eyes. And if he doesn't pop you'll know it's time to change the man on the sofa."

The other incident occurred in the Freshman English class the other day. The professor was reading over the themes and correcting them. In the course of his corrections he came upon and read aloud to the class the following extract from one of the themes: "The dog ran around the room for a minute, and then flew out of the window."

"Now! Mr. Jones, this is your theme, what is the matter with that?"

"Nothing that I can see, Doctor."

"How could the dog fly out of the window?"

"Why, Doctor, he was a bird dog."

A college professor who was always ready for a joke was asked by a student one day if he would like a good recipe for catching rabbits. "Why, yes," replied the professor. "What is it?"

"Well," said the student, "you crouch down behind a thick stone wall and make a noise like a turnip."

"That may be," said the professor with a twinkle in his eye, "but a better way than that would be for you to go and sit quietly in a bed of cabbage heads and look natural."

Senior Informal

Following the Senior Play given Nov. 20, an informal dancing party was given in Rosse Hall by the men of 1910, for the pleasure of the many visitors who had returned to Gambier to witness the Wooster game. Jackson's orchestra of Columbus were engaged, which is almost a proof of an excellent program of numbers, and the informal was most heartily enjoyed by all.

▲ Notice!

The class of 1910 is making every possible effort to clear off the deficit on the Reveille. We would like to urge the undergraduates and the alumni who have not taken or paid for their Reveilles as signed for, to do so at their earliest possible convenience. With thanks for all favors, we remain,

Very truly yours,
The Reveille Management.

On Monday afternoon a spirited debate was held by the Seniors at Bexley Hall. The subject was Resolved: That the Episcopate be given the denominations according to Bishop Brown's plan. Mr. Riblet and Mr. Soares on the affirmative and Mr. Wicks and Mr. Kinkaid on the negative. The four members of the faculty acted as judges and awarded the decision to Messrs Riblet and Soares.

THE 1909 FOOTBALL SEASON.

In reviewing the football season just past at Kenyon one is apt to be influenced by the score of the Thanksgiving game. Putting this game aside no Kenyon man can review the team's work without a feeling of pride for the team and admiration for the coach.

Of all the conference teams in Ohio, Kenyon was probably the hardest hit in the non return of veteran material. When the season opened Coach Pierce faced this proposition. He had to fill six positions out of the material offered from the last year's scrub and freshman teams, the three center men and the two halfbacks being the men left from last year's team. With an eye to next year the coach used his material and at the same time was able to manage so that Kenyon maintained her position in Ohio athletics.

The squad was greatly weakened by the non return of Ed. Southworth, the left tackle of last year and Crippen, the right half, and Daniels, the right end. Several promising freshmen failed to show up in September. Dunn, who it was confidently expected would prove an able successor to Brigman at full, suffered a broken ankle in the Wesleyan game.

The work of Coach Pierce in combating these discouragements deserves the undivided praise of the student body and alumni.

Case and O. S. U. were the only teams who triumphed over us by fairly large margins.

The team of 1909 living up to the traditions established by Kenyon on the gridiron battled gamely through the season, played teams which out weighed it and showed that the clean sportsmanlike fighting spirit which always characterizes Kenyon has not been lost.

Next year should see Kenyon at the top again battling for state honors.

SUPPORT THE BASKET BALL TEAM.

Last year the men decided in Assembly that Basket-ball should not be dropped at Kenyon. This makes you responsible for a successful season this year as well as last year. The material is good this year there is an excellent chance to muster a good team. But this is not the question which worries us. There must be support from the student body in a financial way. The practice games are even more important in this respect than the regular schedule for it is here that we get a good start. It should not be necessary to urge you to come to the regular games for they are sure to be interesting. It has been amply provided in past football seasons that organized cheering is a wonderful help. This is none the less true in the case of basket ball.

Season tickets, as most of you know, will be issued. By them admission may be obtained to the Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein and Wooster games for one dollar. Any who have not taken advantage of this offer should sign up at once.

Above all things support the team and management now and after the season begins.

THE EDUCATION OF A "GENTLEMAN."

Dr. Nicolas Butler, head of the Columbia University recently outlined a program of education that comes to us as a surprise from a man who has proved himself so good an American and a man of good ideas, practical as well as theoretical.

Discussing the future of the university he claimed that the sons of rich men who enter college do not receive proper attention.

"There is," he said, "a curious inability or disinclination on the part of many college reformers to see the necessity of furnishing minds and characters for the simple profession of gentlemen;" he continues, "This new type of student, whether he knows it or not, goes to college primarily for a social, not an intellectual purpose. His wish is to share in the attractive associations of an American college; he desires to participate in athletic sports; he hopes, in after life, to mingle freely and in terms of equality with college-bred men. It is a good thing that boys of this type should go to college, provided the college will recognize their existence as a type and deal with them accordingly.

This is so un-American, so retrogressive a policy that one wonders Dr. Butler could father it. Plainly it means simply the beginning of class distinction by our colleges; the official recognition and toleration of the snobbery that is altogether too prevalent now in the collegiate life in some fashionable institutions—an evil which far-seeing college officials are trying to stamp out.

Executive Committee Meeting—Nov. 15.

The meeting was called to order in the library by Dr. Walton who acted as temporary chairman in the absence of Dr. Reeves.

Members present were: Lybarger, Bentley, Millsbaugh, Harter, and Young.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted.

A budget of fifteen dollars was granted to the glee club manager. The property manager was voted one dollar and sixty cents to buy pad lock and key and hasps.

Manager White made a report of the Denison game and it was accepted.

The meeting then adjourned.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE

The following basket-ball schedule has been announced by Manager Russell. The feature of the schedule is the number of big games in Gambier. Ohio Wesleyan, Otterbein and Wooster, will be met on the home floor. There will be a practice game on January eighth to start the season. East High of Columbus will probably fill the vacant date. Another feature is the game during Prom week which will be played with Otterbein.

The schedule.

Jan. 8—Open.

Jan. 15—O. W. U. at Gambier.

Jan. 20—Western Reserve at Cleveland.

Jan. 21—Buechel at Akron.

Jan. 22—Wooster at Wooster.

Feb. 5 (Prom week) Otterbein at Gambier.

Feb. 12—O. W. U. at Delaware.

Feb. 17—Marietta at Marietta.

Feb. 18—Parkersburg at Parkersburg.

Feb. 19—Ohio University at Athens.

Mar. 12—Otterbein at Westerville.

Mar. 19—Wooster at Gambier.

The students at Miami, encouraged by the success of their team during the past two seasons, think their school should be in the Ohio Conference. Of course no objection of weight could be raised and if student opinion is insistent the consummation of their wish will soon be effected.

BEXLEY NOTES

The Collegian will be glad to receive letters or items of news from Bexley alumni for this column.

Rev. J. H. Dodshon, Archdeacon of Southern Ohio was here Nov. 18.

Rev. Charles E. Byrer preached at Gambier, Nov. 21. The text of his sermon was Luke X 29.

Rev. Charles W. Baker was on the Hill the latter part of November. The Rev. Mr. Baker and family were on their way to Roseburg, Oregon, in which town Mr. Baker is to take charge of St. George's parish. The Rev. Mr. Baker was previously at St. Philip's and St. Matthew's in Cleveland.

Rev. R. B. B. Foote, Anderson, Ind., was here visiting his mother, Nov. 27.

Bishop Brooke of Oklahoma was also on the Hill Nov. 27.

Nov. 29. An interesting debate took place on the following topic: "Resolved that the Historic Episcopate should be offered to the Denominations according to Bishop Brown's plan."

Affirmative, Messrs. Riblet and Soares.

Negative, Messrs. Kinkaid and Wicks.

The result was decided in favor of the affirmative.

We regret to announce the death of Rev. J. C. Hathaway, Marysville, Mo.

The Rev. Hathaway was a graduate of Bexley Hall, '96. While in Gambier he was lay-reader at the Quarry Chapel.

The missions round Gambier—Mr. John Haight goes to the Pleasant Valley Chapel, Mr. W. B. Kinkaid goes to the Quarry Chapel, Mr. H. G. C. Martin goes to Bedell Chapel, Mr. J. Wicks now goes to Cambridge and Mr. P. Ernst is supplying at St. Philip's, Cleveland.

The sixteenth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in this state was held at Akron, Nov. 13th and 14th. Messrs. Leslie and Hull attended from Gambier. A full account of the convention can be seen in "Church Life" for November.

An interesting account of the work of the Rev. L. Cody Marsh, Kenyon '07, together with a picture of his vested boy's choir at Wooster, Ohio, can be seen in the November "Church Life."

The following tribute was paid to the late Richard Watson Gilder in a New York pulpit.

"Richard Watson Gilder did his work in the spirit and power of Elijah, with the same unflinching courage and the same patriotic devotion. Of him it may be said, as of Ruskin 'His love of truth so pervaded with his love of beauty, and his love of beauty so pervaded with his love of truth that when he speaks we know not whether to admire more the artist or the prophet.'"

One of the daily papers in Sioux Falls, S. Dakota, where the late Bishop Hare made his home expressed the warm admiration felt for him by all citizens of the state, both as a man and as a Churchman.

"His wonderful services in extending Christianity, education and civilization among the Indians in moving public and private sentiment toward higher ideals, has laid all the people of the state under profound obligations which can never be repaid, but which are keenly felt by all."

Alumni Notes

Leland A. Vaughn, '04, spent Saturday and Sunday, the twentieth and twenty-first, on the Hill.

F. Whiting Avery, '06, has completely recovered from the attack of pneumonia that he suffered three weeks ago and has again taken up his work in Columbus.

John Scott, '10, spent Monday and Tuesday of this week in Gambier.

Present at the Kenyon-State game: Walter Collins, '03, Rev. John Coolidge, '02, Phil Stanbery, '96, Henry Stanbery, '98, William P. Carpenter, '92, Carl Weiant, '05, Harry Theodore, '10, Whiting Avery, '06, Tom Sheldon, '10, Austin McIlroy, '09, Harvey McIlroy, '09, C. Donald Rarey, '11, John Scott, '10.

Ralph Sykes, '08, witnessed the State game in Columbus on Thanksgiving.

Wilbur L. Cummings, '02, spent a few days on the Hill at the time of the Wooster game. Mr. Cummings had been in New York City and found it convenient to stop off at Gambier on his return to Seattle where he is practicing law.

Joseph M. Weaver, '04, was married to Miss Virginia Beall of Wellsburg, West Virginia, on October the 14th.

The Rev. George Atwater, '95, returned to the Hill on Nov. 23, to remain a few days at the home of Mrs. Davies.

Paul D. Voorheis Michigan '06, a brother of George B. Voorheis, Kenyon '02, and Henry J. Brown, Michigan '02, visited friends at Kenyon to see the Wooster-Kenyon game.

Van Allen Coolidge, '09, is in the steel business in Detroit and is playing quarter-back on an "all-star" athletic club team.

Wayne A. Stallman, '12, visited Gambier to see the last game of the season on Benson field, and to enjoy the Senior play, "Ici On Parle Francais," and informal dance.

Warren H. Mann, '00, a truly loyal alumnus and writer of "The Thrill" was back at college to see the team play against Wooster.

Carl Ricketts, '05, Chicago, Ill., was here on Nov. 21, for a short visit.

A few of the many Alumni present at the Kenyon-State game on Thanksgiving Day were: F. A. Cartmell, '10, D. L. Gardner, '11, John Boggs, '07, Karl S. Rising, '06, Ralph Wyant, '10, J. G. Stewart, '02, Anton Coldewey, '09, Harry Crow, '10, F. H. Hamm, '06, Convers Goddard, '02, W. M. Townsend, '79, W. J. Finlay, '08, L. L. Townsend, '11.

Paul Barber, '09, was on the Hill for a short time Nov. 19th. He is buying lumber for an Illinois mill and stopped over on his way to the Michigan forests.

Last Football Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting, which in the writer's opinion, resembled more closely those of last year than any this season, was held in Philo Hall Tuesday night before the State game. A large number of students and a few members of the faculty were present and many enthusiastic speeches were made. At the close a long song and yell service was held, the effect of which was noticeable on Ohio field two days later.

Harcourt Notes

A large number of Harcourt girls showed their loyalty to Kenyon by being present at the Kenyon-State game on Thanksgiving day.

The wedding of Miss Sue Williams, '10, to Mr. Geo. Southworth, Kenyon '09, will take place in Columbus on December the twenty-first. The ceremony will be conducted at the home of the bride-elect by the Rev. L. Cody Marsh.

Senior Play

The Senior class presented the one act comedy, "Ici on Parle Francais" or "The Major's Mistake" at Rosse Hall on the evening following the Wooster game, Saturday, Nov. 20. The little farce proved one of the best entertainers seen in Gambier in some time. The nature of the play itself, short and full of opportunities for excellent character work, made the action rapid and intensely interesting.

Mr. Tunks, seen so many times in farcical plays, more than distinguished himself in his portrayal of Mr. Spriggins, the eccentric little boardinghouse keeper. His manner of speech and facial expressions were cleverly acted. To Mr. Wiseman also, who enacted the role of a French gentleman of fashion, no improvement could have been suggested. The role of Major Regulus Rattan, the irate father who had lost his daughter Angeline, was well carried out by Mr. Bland, whose size and heavy voice were exactly suitable to the part. The girls' parts were well acted by Mr. Martin, Mr. Hardy and Mr. Fultz, who had been seen before acting such roles in College plays. Mr. Siddall, the only Junior, played the role of Angeline, Major and Mrs. Rattan's daughter, to the entire satisfaction of the audience.

The whole play was well acted. Costumes, scenery and spirit united so well in the production that the number of alumni back on the Hill pronounced it a very successful act and a happy entertainer.

The complete cast is as follows:

KENYON 5—WOOSTER 0

Four days before the state game Kenyon's cripples met Wooster in Gambier for their annual set-to. The team was in the worst condition of the season. Captain Siegchrist, Bentley and Henry didn't play in the game and Axtell played only about 5 minutes before he was forced to the side line with an injured knee. The team managed to win however, 5 to 0.

A strong wind blew directly down the field and it was Kenyon's misfortune to play against it during the first half. Despite this the play was almost entirely in Wooster's territory but the ball could not be put across the coveted goal line. Kenyon gained mostly through the line. On account of the patched up team, the offense was very ragged and the wind permitted of no forward passing. Wooster had one chance to score. A fumbled punt gave them the ball on the two-yard line, but after three attempts at gain the ball was three yards farther from the goal and their chance was gone.

Kenyon had the wind in the second half and on the first down after the kick-off punted far down the field and the play was thereafter in Wooster's half of the gridiron. Kenyon, however, could not score a touchdown. Wooster fumbled a pass near her own goal line and C. Cable downed the runner back of the mark for a safety, giving Kenyon two points. This was followed shortly after by Lord's place-kick from the 35-yard line. This brought the total up to five and there it stayed.

Reinheimer and Mason at the ends showed good defensive powers. John Southworth used his 135 pounds to great advantage and filled Captain Siegchrist's position very creditably.

THE YALE-HARVARD GAME.

One more or less ancient custom was revived on November 19, when "Yale" and "Harvard" battled for supremacy on Benson field. Hanna Hall wore the crimson of Harvard and after two fifteen minute halves, walked off the field a victor over Old Kenyon's Yale team 5 to 0.

Those who held places on the varsity squad or on the freshman eleven were barred.

These conditions brought out a great array of talent with Harvard the odds on favorite on account of the reputations several of their finest had brought with them from prep school.

Yale was on the field fully an hour before Harvard put in their appearance. The latter bunch of huskies were shy a man and had to pull Harkness out of an examination to make the team complete. The patience of the capacity crowd was finally rewarded by the appearance of these "Kads from Cambridge" and after much arguing over the selection of officials the whistle blew.

The first half ended 0 to 0. Harvard was strong on end runs. Yale gained some through the line with Thurston and Hardy showing the honors. The former at one time cleared everybody except "Hawkshaw" Downe who slammed him to Mother Earth after a 70 yard gain. This was Yale's one grand opportunity to tally.

In the second half Yale's defense was even better, but the offense was correspondingly bad. The playing was all in Harvard's territory and Hayes punted time after time. The wretched handling of these punts by Yale backs and ends lost the game. Yale should easily have had two touchdowns if the punts had been handled in good form.

Harvard scored after about 10 minutes of play. Thurston punted to Downe who eluded the whole Yale team and romped 50 yards for the only score of the game. Try at goal failed.

Yale's offensive play was handled most successfully by Hardy and Thurston; Sackett, Kinder and Gaines showed stellar form on defense. Time after time this trio broke up Harvard's punishing offense and threw the men for losses.

Downe was easily Harvard's star. His work on offense and defense stood out strongly. Hayes, Dickinson and Cardillo also played consistently.

Freshmen of the O. S. U. Organized a Pan-Hellenic Association

The Ohio State University Glee Club will make several trips this year. This is the first time in years that they have appeared away from home and the experiment will be watched with interest.

President Thompson of O. S. U. is the latest college president to come to the defense of football. He says that men of the world waste a great deal more time discussing baseball than college students do discussing football.

The Freshmen at Ohio State have organized a Pan-Hellenic Association. We notice that Ernest Hodges, who attended Kenyon last year, is the representative from the Sigma Chi chapter.

The University of Kansas has just refused to admit a man who was expelled from another university for hazing.

Led by T. S. Berna, Cornell's team easily won the intercollegiate cross-country championship over the Massachusetts Institute of Technology course from nine other colleges on November 20.

It was Cornell's eighth win in ten years. Technology was second with 88 points, as compared with Cornell's 22. Michigan was third with 112 points and Yale fourth with 114. The other scores were: Dartmouth, 123; Syracuse, 143; Harvard, 153; University of Pennsylvania, 183; Columbia, 227; Princeton, 234.

Berna's time was 33 minutes 5 1-5 seconds, remarkable going for the broken Technology course of six miles. Between Berna and Tappen, also of Cornell, there was but one second difference.

At Iowa University the football team had for a mascot a full grown cinnamon bear. Bruin was too large and strong to run loose, and so is confined to a large concrete cage near the bleachers from whence he no doubt lifts his voice to swell the rooter's chorus.

The number of women registered at the Ohio State University this year is 563, distributed as follows: Arts, 387; Education, 44; Domestic Science, 137; Law, 3; Pharmacy, 3.

"The Scare Crow," written by a Harvard graduate, has been chosen by the Harvard Dramatic Club as the annual play to be produced in December.

The baseball team of the University of Wisconsin has just returned from a trip to Japan, where a series of games was played with nines representing different native schools. Not all of the scores favored the invaders and the editor of Collier's commenting on the readiness of the Japs to learn the game, sees in their aggressiveness in athletics a new form of the yellow peril—he fears that the Mikado's subjects, though handicapped in weight, will some day be able to outplay our best teams on the gridiron. We believe that the Japanese are better football material than the Indians, and some day we may have our proof.

Columbia University is making a strenuous effort to regain some of her lost prestige in college sports. During the coming year, $18,000 will be available for that purpose.

A new four-year course in Forestry has been added to the courses given in the College of Agriculture of the Ohio State University. That there is a growing demand for this line of work is evidenced by the fact that 28 students are enrolled.

At Purdue a number of loan scholarships are awarded each year to needy students. This system of lending money has been made possible by donations from the alumni, the class of 1903 and several other sources. The amount is always to be paid back in fifteen months after graduation.

The debating team from the George Washington University will journey across the country to Los Angeles, where they will meet in debate the representatives of the University of Southern California. The visitors will make the trip without expense to themselves. All this is a good example of the progressive Western spirit that inspires everything done in that part of the country. Again, a trip of so many thousand miles for just a debate is most significant in showing that interest in contests between minds is not at as low an ebb as some would have us believe.

To every educator it will be of interest to learn that the University of Washington has just received over a million and a half of dollars' worth of property through the holding of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition on the campus of that university. When called to choose what could be used for university purposes the regents reserved twenty-eight of the thirty-two structures, which with some grounds in addition aggregate the magnificent sum of $1,658,000.00. The California building, one of the most substantially constructed buildings of the exposition, is splendidly designed for museum purposes and to this end will this building be devoted, and hereafter all the ethnological, geological, educational, commercial, anthropological and historical collections of the University will be housed there.

Over $10,000 per quarter is the sum earned by the students at the University of Chicago who feel the need of supplementing their means from some outside source. This does not include the honor scholarships awarded by the University, but covers actual work rendered by students in every imaginable capacity, such as stenographers, clerks, tutors, waiters, chauffeurs, salesmen, housework, attending to furnaces and lawns, delivering papers, and performing odd jobs generally. In fact the opportunities for taking work are even more numerous than the number of students desiring to take advantage of them. There are frequently openings for both men and women in the large retail stores or in doctor's offices, for example, in which spare time in the afternoons or on Saturday can be turned to profitable account, which go a-begging. Approximately 350 students of both sexes have obtained satisfactory work this quarter through the free Employment Bureau maintained by the University, there being no means of ascertaining how many more have obtained work without such help. The fact remains however, that there is ample opportunity for the energetic student to earn his way, either in whole or in part, and those opportunities usually outnumber those seeking for them.
